Tag: drinks Punch Spiced Ale, an Amsterdam based brewery. The beer was created by the innovators, and started as a one-off in 2015. It was developed as a seasonal brew with a strong traditional Spiced Ale flavor. In the months to follow, it gained national and international recognition. It was the first time that this beer was made with a different recipe, which gained great success at the first international fair at the World Beer Cup 2015. The new recipe has also helped to raise the profile of the producer and earned the brewery a role model for the city of Amsterdam. In 2017, the then production year, SPALA was released at another innovation – the first brewng in a single small keg. The small keg not only offers the brewer a more direct contact with the customer, but also allows the brewer to improve the beer. And that is exactly what SPALA in a small keg does. Stronger Spiced Ale In 2018, the new line-up of SPALA was launched in kegs, specifically for the distributors. The new recipe has an even stronger Spiced Ale flavor, which is ideal for the drinker. The beer is available in both six and twelve packs. The latter gives the brewer a chance to give a beer a sharper impression at the bar. Despite its unique technique in small kegs, the new beers maintain the strong traditional Spiced Ale flavor. And in a traditional format, it is possible to try for yourself in just one trip. At SPALA Amsterdam, we take pride in our craft and select the best ingredients. Our brewer is working together with several other breweries from the local area to get the best. The team at SPALA is regularly checking the ingredients and brewing practices in craft breweries around the world. We select a traditional city brewing method, and use its most important characteristic – yeast. The yeast is of course added to the brewing process as an ingredient, and makes the difference. This is why the yeast at SPALA is not roasted and processed. As soon as the brewer has selected a fine yeast, it is sent to us. This is how our brewery has acquired an international reputation. This is how the great SPALA starts Grape Sludge from Lake Constance Grape sludge is collected at the bottom of the water reservoirs in Lake Constance by SPALA’s brewer to begin the brewing process. First, the brewer adds a
