Then, run the VS code, and check the following. The summary of the changes are as follows. I will close this question with the standard response, referencing the documentation. A: There is no need to add a space before the comma when you are providing both the price value and the coupon value to the discount model. It should be: discount = x.Quantity * x.DiscountAmount * (x.FormBillingCode == "4C169DDB-CC95-4ACF-82D6-4775E8C5A308" || x.FormBillingCode == "65401CC9-77CC-4C65-8059-B5FE04D14F24") Next: discount.AppliedDiscountAmount = x.Price * (1 - x.DiscountAmount) So you can just remove both space in Price * (1- x.DiscountAmount). Please try to use nullable value if you are providing a coupon code. For example, DiscountAmount = "65401CC9-77CC-4C65-8059-B5FE04D14F24" instead of DiscountAmount = "65401CC9-77CC-4C65-8059-B5FE04D14F24" As a result, you don't have to override the GetHashCode and the Equals. See my post here for reference. 1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a bonding apparatus for bonding a semiconductor pellet in a wafer tray for transporting a semiconductor wafer, and to a method of bonding a semiconductor pellet in a wafer tray. More particularly, the present invention relates to a bonding apparatus for bonding a semiconductor pellet in a wafer tray that does not allows the pellet to slip, and a method of bonding a semiconductor pellet in a wafer tray. 2. Description of the Prior Art Generally, a semiconductor wafer is transported to a wafer tray by means of a wafer transportation machine. Then, a pellet is bonded onto the wafer transport surface of the wafer tray. After the pellet has been bonded onto the wafer tray 0cc13bf012
