Keng said, "I really like Space Shooter games, so I decided to make a simple yet addictive game featuring Space Shooter." He gave one year (2012) to make this game and stated: "I have one year, all I need to do is to make this game. If it's a success, I'll get a new job!" As he waited for the outcome, he worked on other projects (such as SONIC BOOM Boom) All you have to do is aim at the box with the arrow keys. If you hit the box, the ball will drop into the hole. This Game is Free And Available for Download In the Menu of the Game! T-Mobile Exclusive Tips 1. When you take the ball, you can put your foot on the ground to make the ball stop. 2. If you miss the ball, it will drop to the next box after one second. 3. The boxes will disappear if you don't shoot the ball into the hole for a long time (about 5 minutes). 4. You can score a high score if you hit the boxes with your full strength. 5. Press Space to use a super-shot. The lyrics to "Rise" were written by Joe Mantegna & Sammy Strain but rarely performed live, during the recording sessions, I wrote the lyrics for the song along with R. Lamm (drums).. "When the Rock Rolls" was demoed with the Cowboy Junkies on their 'MMM MMM MMM MMM MM.' album, but the song's upbeat southern tempo didn't suit the band much. Then I used the lyrics as a template in "On Valentine's Day In Detroit," a song I wrote with John Frusciante & Dan Miller on Bang Into A Rainbow. "On Valentine's Day In Detroit" allowed me to integrate Frusciante's piano playing and guitar sound, but most of the arrangements I had in mind were discarded.
