novel "Bajirao Mastani" by Sanjiv Jha, which was first published in the early 18th century. The film stars Sanjay Dutt, Manisha Koirala, Soha Ali Khan, Varsha Usgaonkar, and Iffat-Sulai Kazi. Bajirao Mastani was well received by the critics, it was critically acclaimed and was a box office hit. It is the only Hindi film to have been nominated for four Filmfare Awards and won two of them. Synopsis: It is the year 1699 and the Mughal Empire is still struggling for its existence against the Marathas, Afghans, and British. Bajirao I, a courageous ruler, a military leader and a soldier, is a great hindrance to the Mughals and is a threat to the Mughal dynasty and the throne. He is clever, passionate, and influential. Mastani, one of Bajirao's wives is noble and of great intellect. She wishes to take control of the kingdom and to drive Bajirao from the throne. Bajirao is fond of the beautiful Mastani, and it is due to his affection that he has never married another woman. To protect his throne, Bajirao wants to marry Mastani. However, to his shock and dismay, he is captured by the Mughals on an obscure charge, and is not allowed to even meet Mastani. With a lot of vigour and power, Mastani is determined to save her honour and to prove to her husband that she is worthy of such love. Raised in the lap of luxury under the administration of Bajirao, she starts to realize that she is facing an impossible task and that she cannot win in this fight with Bajirao. Kabhi Alvida Naa Ke
