The words "Rain," "Thunder," "Ruby," "Sunset," "Rising," "Lakes" appearing on the main menu screen are a reference to the character cards presented in Shadowverse, a card game developed by Sword Art Online and Fate’s Chinese publisher Rising Star Games.

The words above are taken from the story of Sword Art Online and Fate, as well as the artist's comments on anime visual novels.

「このゲームでは、通常のゲームとは異なり、キャラクターの装備ではお馴染みの美術作品にアップグレードを適用される『フェザー』の機能を活用する。これで、美術の機能を使いこなすのは単なる器画に比べ当然!
今回は参考にされたのがまさにその『フェザー』です。」（オリジナル版のキャラクターデザインコストスルジー）

"In this game, you can enhance your weapons and equipment to look like artworks as you become accustomed to normal gaming, which is merely a simulation of art. It's normal-play, but using a feature of art. In this case, it's exactly like Fairway’s art feature. "

The next section was quite a classic steam train and was the only regular service I had been on in Siberia. I didn’t catch much of the scenery in these sections, but I really enjoyed the stops at the various rivers. The last part of the train was a sleeper car with metal seats and cold showers, which I passed quickly because of the excitement from the last leg. After the train arrived, I decided to take the bus to Ilim. I was also considering the train in the morning, but I like to arrive at a city early because it takes so long to get to the city. The driver dropped me off in the city about two hours before sunset, but the city was quite dead. I took a walk around the city before finding a hostel. There was not much in the hostel, but I had a great time wandering the city alone. After staying for a few days, I decided to leave the
