
Gsrld.dll Dynamic Library On L.a. Noire UPDATED

A: It's not as simple as I described in my original answer, but here's a solution that should work at least for Windows users: 1) Download the.dll 2) Save it to your Computer 3) Go into the folder where you have your Program.exe 4) Right click the.dll file and select "Compile With" 5) Select "C/C++ Compiler" and "Visual C++ 2008 Express Edition" 6) Click "OK" 7) Right click on the.dll file in the bin folder of your Program.exe 8) Select "Open With..." 9) Click on "Browse" and go to the folder where you saved your.dll 10) Press "Ok" 11) Press "Build" 12) Wait until the Compile process is done 13) Press "Finish" 14) In the "Program.exe" folder, rename the.dll extension to.old This fixes the "Fatal Error" in Max Payne 3 and fixes the "L.A. Noire loading screen" in my Windows 7 build. If this does not work for you, try one of the other solutions below: Go into your Program.exe folder and open the "Parameters" folder by right clicking and selecting "Open With" Open the "Parameters" folder and in the "Current Version" tab, double click on the file, rename the.dll extension to.old Note: The second solution may not work on all games. A: As an alternative to the steps mentioned in above post. Simply copy the dll of the game into your Program.exe Folder. You can go into that folder and then add the file like any other file. You dont have to clean your Program.exe folder after the dll is added. If done correctly, Run the program without any Debug Errors. The Load Screen wont show up anymore.
