About Independently, America is bankrupt. About 500 billion dollars is being spent monthly on operations, and that's not counting the interest on the national debt or the amount being lost by the states to balance their budgets. And that money is not being spent to build our infrastructure. It's not being spent on education or job training. It's not being spent on health care or retirement. It's being spent overseas to support wars and occupations, or being exported on corporate tax subsidies. And it's being spent to support the other forty-five countries that belong to the European Union, while America's trade deficit with Europe is growing. American consumers are spending their incomes, which they earn from a struggling job market, to support a government that can't balance its budgets. American families are spending at least a third of their incomes on services, health care and college. And they're still not paying down the mountain of debt we've accumulated. If we don't find out who is funding the terrorists, if we don't find out who is behind the rigging of the stock market, if we don't find out who has changed the course of democracy in the Middle East and if we don't find out who is using our currency to artificially low the price of gold, we will, inexorably, not be sovereign at all. And when we lose our sovereignty, we lose the ability to protect our interests, we lose the ability to defend ourselves and our own liberty. And once we are no longer sovereign, we can no longer be Americans. We must know who is funding the terrorists. We must know who is behind the rigging of the stock market. We must know who is using our currency to artificially low the price of gold. And if we don't know who that is, we must know who to ask. Today, we ask of the House of Representatives whether or not it will give the Government Accounting Office the authority to investigate and report back to the American people on the largest banks, the largest securities firms and the Federal Reserve Board. I'm a former conservative Democrat and I'm here in my capacity as a Heritage Foundation scholar and researcher. The information we have about banking and finance is staggering. c6a93da74d
