1.18.0xdrag&drop implementation (experimental)signal 1 availability (experimental): better responsiveness to selection changes and mouse wheel scrolling. specifically, if you scroll down on a selection, you now will see the highlights extend downwards a bit, instead of immediately stopping at the bottom. drag&drop implementation (new):the draggable now has a new drag start state which can be use to make it easier to start dragging items from a selection. you can switch to this mode via the "drag&drop implementation" option in the main settings. global network options:in the main settings, the "network performance" option has a new "immediate" setting. when checked, the draggable looks for a way to connect to a signal 1 connection before executing the content selection routine, if a connection can be found. this is very useful when working with a slow connection, but makes the draggable needlessly perform network operations (even if it is possible) if the connection is actually in use. general settings:when the drag starts, the "image filters" option is now reset based on the selected flight image filter, making it possible to set a default. (this was to cover for the fact that it wasn't clear what the default would be if not given.)
