Yahoo To PDF Converter aims to provide a solution for everyone to export their Yahoo emails to their computer safely and securely in more than one format. Nothing to worry about Upon booting the app, you'll be prompted to introduce your Yahoo account credentials. While this may seem suspicious at first, the fact that you have to generate an app password via Yahoo erases all doubts about a possible account scam. Upon logging in, select the mailboxes that you would like to export, and then proceed to the backup menu. The options there are quite numerous: export the emails to your computer, then delete them on the cloud to save space, remove duplicate mails and omit attachment files, and much more. You can also set a mail filter to only export the entries in a certain date range. Numerous formats to export in While using the dropdown in the backup menu, you'll notice that there's a lot of variety. From being able to migrate for mail services like Thunderbird, AOL, Hotmail, and so on, and all the way to exporting your emails as.PDF,.JPG,.DOCX, and.HTML files to keep them on your computer there's a lot to choose from.
