But with all those lovely tunes running through your head, how are you supposed to remember to practice, practice, practice? Well, here are a few ways to make sure you're fully prepared for your next drum solo: Tip #1: Search for a Feeling You know your favorite songs by heart, but there's a difference between learning the lyrics and learning the music. If you want to be able to play them the way they were written, you're going to need to know the song inside and out. See, when a songwriter writes a song, he or she takes into account the beat, the bass, the drums, the melody and the harmonies. You need to have a good idea of what you're going to do in order to make sure that these elements are working with each other. Tip #
